

Administrative Notes (AdNotes)

Since 1980, Administrative Notes has served to inform the depository library community of policies, procedures, and news relating to the Federal Depository Library Program. It was first published in paper (initially on a monthly basis and later bimonthly, with additional issues as required) and then went online-only. When distributed in paper, each issue was distributed to all libraries in regular depository shipments, along with an annual microfiche cumulation.

- * View the final edition of Administrative Notes (September - December 2009)
- * View back issues (1996 through 2009)
- * View the cumulative table of contents

Today, the information that has been published in Administrative Notes is not as timely as new Internet technologies have emerged and matured (e.g., email alerts, RSS). Therefore, after a 30-year run, the Administrative Notes newsletter will cease with the September-December 2009 issue. The FDLP Desktop will be the primary communication vehicle about the Federal Depository Library Program.